FUNDING TO DANCE PROGRAMS, 2000-2001

- In 2000-2001, the Canada Council for the Arts provided grants worth $12.4 million to dance in Canada.
- Due to the collaborative nature of dance, Canada Council funding is awarded primarily to dance companies, collectives, and organizations as opposed to individuals. Grants to dance organizations totaled $11.7 million in 2000-2001, while grants to individuals artists comprised $727,483. With this $727,483 in funds, a total of 120 dance artists received grants to further their careers as emerging, mid-career, established and aboriginal artists.
- Organizational funding assists a wide variety of dance organizations, collectives and companies to create, produce, tour and present new Canadian dance works. In 2000-2001, a large percentage of organizational funding was disseminated through the creation/production in dance program. With a budget of $7.9 million, the program helps fund Canadian dance institutions such as the National Ballet of Canada and the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, as well as companies such as the Kokoro Dance Company and Mascall Dance.
- Funding to dance comprised 11.3% of Canada Council funding to the arts in 2000-2001. In terms of funding allocations, the dance budget of $12.4 million is mid-range, with dance receiving more funding than media and inter-arts, but significantly less funding than Council's other performing arts disciplines of music and theatre (that receive $20.7 million respectively.)
- Funding to dance organizations and artists is widely dispersed across the country in 57 different cities and communities. However, a significant percentage of funding is concentrated in two Canadian centres featuring prominent and internationally recognized dance communities. Montréal received $4.1 million in Canada Council dance funding, while Toronto dance artists and organizations also received almost $3.8 million. The city of Winnipeg is emerging as a vital centre of dance activity, with $990,750 in Council funds awarded to dancers and organizations in the city in 2000-01.

SOME FACTS ABOUT DANCE IN CANADA

- Data taken from Statistics Canada's 1998-99 Performing Arts Survey notes that while performing arts show attendance as a whole fell 3.9% in 1998-99 compared with 1996-97, dance attendance actually increased during this period, up 3.6% to approximately 1.4 million spectators.¹
- A rise in public grants was recorded in the theatre, music and dance disciplines in the 1998-99 Performing Arts Survey. Funding from the private sector to performing arts companies as a whole has increased to $97.1 million, up 11.3% from 1996-97, and private sector contributions to dance have increased, up 17.5% since the 1996-97 survey.
- In 1998-99, foreign tours generated an important source of revenue for dance companies, accounting for $8 million in revenues. Specifically, medium-size dance companies especially benefited from tours; the $1.2 million they generated from foreign tours accounting for 47% of their income. Revenues from foreign tours by Canadian dance companies participating in the Performing Arts Survey increased by 28%, compared with the 1996-97 survey.
- The dance companies included in the Performing Arts Survey are promoting Canadian works very strongly onstage, with 91% of all dance performances in 1998-99 containing Canadian content. In the other disciplines surveyed, Canadian content was found in 84% of theatre performances, while opera and music performances contained only 34% and 27% respectively.

FINANCEMENT DES PROGRAMMES DE DANSE POUR L'ANNÉE 2000-2001

- En 2000-2001, le Conseil des arts du Canada a octroyé 12,4 millions de dollars en subventions au milieu canadien de la danse professionnelle.
- En raison du caractère de collaboration lié à la danse, le Conseil accorde principalement le financement aux compagnies, aux collectifs ou aux organismes, plutôt qu'aux particuliers. Le total des subventions accordées, en 2000-2001, aux organismes de danse, a été de 11,7 millions de dollars, alors que celles attribuées individuellement à des artistes, pour la même année, totalisaient 727 483 $. Cette somme de 727 483 $ a été répartie, sous forme de bourses, entre 120 artistes du milieu de la danse, ce qui leur a permis de faire avancer leur carrière, soit comme artistes de la relève, soit comme artistes à mi-carrière, soit comme artistes établis ou comme artistes autochtones.
- Le financement organisationnel vient en aide à une grande variété d'organismes, de collectifs ou de compagnies de danse, leur permettant ainsi de créer de nouvelles œuvres chorégraphiques canadiennes, de les produire et de les présenter en tournée. En 2000-2001, une large part du financement organisationnel a été investie dans le volet création et production du programme de danse. Le budget de 7,9 millions de dollars du programme permet de financer tant des institutions canadiennes comme le Ballet national du Canada et le Ballet royal de Winnipeg que des compagnies comme la Kokoro Dance Company et la Mascall Dance. Les programmes de diffusion et de tournées ont reçu chacun environ 1 million de financement, en 1999-2000.
- Le financement du milieu de la danse a compté pour 11,3 % de l'investissement du Conseil dans les arts en 2000-2001. En regard de la répartition financière, le budget de 12,4 millions de dollars consacré à la danse se situe dans la moyenne. En effet, le Conseil a financé la danse dans une plus grande mesure que les arts médiatiques et l'interdisciplinarité. Toutefois, ce financement est beaucoup moindre que celui des autres arts d'interprétation que sont la musique et le théâtre, lesquels ont reçu respectivement 20.7 millions de dollars.
- Le financement des organismes et des artistes du milieu de la danse est largement réparti dans tout le pays soit, dans 57 villes ou collectivités diverses. Cependant, deux villes canadiennes, où se retrouvent les troupes de danse les plus en vue et les plus connues mondialement ont reçu une proportion considérable de ce financement : Montréal a obtenu 4,1 millions de dollars et les artistes et les compagnies de danse de Toronto en ont reçu presque 3,8 millions de dollars. Winnipeg est en train de devenir un centre incontournable de la danse professionnelle : la subvention de 990 750 $ qui a été remise à ses danseurs et à ses organismes de danse en 2000-2001 en témoigne.

QUELQUES FAITS SUR LA DANSE AU CANADA

- Selon les données de 1998-1999 de l'Enquête sur les arts d'interprétation publiée par Statistique Canada, il y a eu diminution de près de 3.9 % de l'assistance aux spectacles en arts d'interprétation en 1998-1999, comparativement à 1996-1997, tandis que, pour la même période, *l'assistance à des spectacles de danse a effectivement augmenté de 3.6 %, ce qui représente environ 1,4 million de spectateurs.*¹
- L'Enquête sur les arts d'interprétation, de 1998-1999, a révélé une baisse dans les subventions publiques lesquelles constituent la plus importante source de financement des compagnies après les revenus tirés de leurs propres efforts. Cette baisse s'est manifestée dans toutes les disciplines concernées. Alors que le financement privé des arts de la scène en général s'est accru de 84,8 millions de dollars, pour représenter jusqu'à 17 % de celui-ci depuis 1994-1995, il a diminué, pour ce qui est de la danse en particulier, ce qui représente une décroissance de 10,5 %.
- En 1998-1999, les tournées à l'étranger ont constitué une importante source de revenus pour les compagnies de danse, et on compté pour 8 million de revenus. Plus précisément, les compagnies de danse d'importance moyenne ont particulièrement tiré profit des tournées, leurs revenus de tournée atteignant jusqu'à 47% % de leurs revenus totaux de 1998-1999.

¹L'Enquête sur les arts d'interprétation paraît tous les deux ans et rend compte des activités des compagnies sans but lucratif qui s'occupent des arts d'interprétation comme le théâtre, la musique instrumentale ou chorale, la danse ou l'opéra. L'enquête de 1998-1999 a visé 625 compagnies d'arts d'interprétation : 350, pour le théâtre, 160, pour la musique, 92, pour la danse et 23, pour l'opéra. On a répondu à l'enquête dans une proportion de 93 %.
